Planner angry

Police probe criticized

CAMPBELL PLANNING commissioners directed some pointed questions to the City Council last week in the wake of an announcement that the Campbell Police Department and the District Attorney's office are investigating the activities of one of their fellow members.

The voting record and official actions of Commissioner Peggy Pack have been under scrutiny for almost three weeks now and Police Chief Don Burr said Friday he expects it will be another two weeks before that investigation is concluded and findings reported.

Commissioner George Vierhus read a statement at the beginning of last Tuesday's commission meeting in which he expressed concern over that investigation.

". . . I feel that a 'criminal investigation' of one planning commissioner could lessen the effectiveness of the entire commission," Vierhus said.

THE QUESTIONS posed to councilmen include:

- Can a paid city staff employee (in this case the Police Chief) institute an investigation calling for DA assistance without authorization officially from the City Council?
- What was the basis on the investigation?
- What is the responsibility of the City Attorney in such matters and, "why was it necessary to call for an 'outside criminal investigation'?"

Vierhus explained he felt such a probe, regardless of the outcome, places a stigma on the person being investigated.

"If such is the case," Vierhus declared," city officials are extremely vulnerable and conceivably could be subjected to uncalled for and illogical hharassment."

City Attorney Bob Dempster countered that it was his responsibility to advise commissioners in such matters.

"BUT I WOULD add that at this time I do not feel there is a conflict of interest," Dempster added. An investigation is not his department, he said.

A review of noise studies required over the past two years shows that Pack and Associates have done most of them. Commissioner Pack is an officer in the Santa Clara-based firm.

If studies show that Pack voted on these developments, without knowing her firm would be doing the work, or abstained from voting where work had already been contracted for, no legal conflict of interest can be found. (Last week Commissioner Pack abstained on three of the seven items before the Commission).

There are four possible outcomes to this case.

- There was no wrongdoing on the part of the commissioner.
- While no legal conflict of interest is involved, a possible moral conflict of interest exists.

- A LEGAL CONFLICT of interest is found which is a civil, rather than criminal matter, involving the firm and architects and developers who paid for studies.
- Possible conflict of interest involving charges based on the new Political Reform Act.

Skateboard park limit considered

Two parks are enough

AFTER SPIRITED discussion Monday night the City Council authorized City Attorney Bob Dempster to draw up a new ordinance limiting the number of skateboard parks in the city to two for every 50,000 residents.

Councilman Ralph Doetsch voted no on the proposal and Councilman Rusty Hammer, who supported setting a public hearing on the limit, said that doesn't mean he'll vote for the ordinance itself.

At present the city has two approved skateboard park developments so the effect of the limit would be to hold the line there.

Dempster cautioned the Council against adopting too many limiting ordinances.

"We must be cautious," Dempster said. "There's got to be good, sound reasoning behind limiting free enterprise in the city of Campbell."

Councilman Norm Paul, speaking in favor of the new law, said skateboard parks are a totally new area for the city. "It's better to proceed slowly," he added.

HAMMER SAID he'd support a six month moritorium on additional parks until the city has a chance to see what problems, if any, the new developments bring.

The city has a two limit now on pawnshops and Monday night held a first reading on an ordinance placing a similar limit on antique and estate auction galleries.

Second reading, and final adoption, of that new law would be held Oct. 24.

In other action Monday night the Council:

Directed Dempster and Police Chief Don Burr to continue studying complaints over sexually explicit material sold in racks in front of the Post Office. Nancy Sanchou appeared to ask the Council to take some action.

"This smut on our city streets must go," she said.

City Manager Bob Stephens reported he was in touch with State Assemblyman Richard Hayden last week and has been advised Hayden and other legislators plan to introduce bills during the 1978 session to address the problem. He urged Sanchou and others concerned to contact Hayden or the Criminal Justice Committee.

"IT ISN'T SIMPLY the passing of an ordinance," Stephens added.

Chief Burr told the woman his department is as concerned as she is and every two weeks (when a new issue comes out) police take the latest copy to the District Attorney's office to see if a complaint can be filed. So far, Burr added, the papers have not been outside legal bounds.

- Voted to deny plans for a roofing materials sales yard at 64 Harrison ave., adjacent to the new loop street. Earlier, the Planning Commission and staff has recommended denial.
- Held a first reading on approval of plans for an office building at 595 Millich drive after a discussion of that development's impact on parking for the nearly Campbell Little League field at Rosemary School. The vacant parcel has been used as additional parking by leaguers and spectators for several years.

Planning Director Art Kee told the Council he feels the 100 parking spaces planned for the development would be an improvement over the dirt field and that the developer has no objections to his parking lot being used on weekends and evenings by the League.

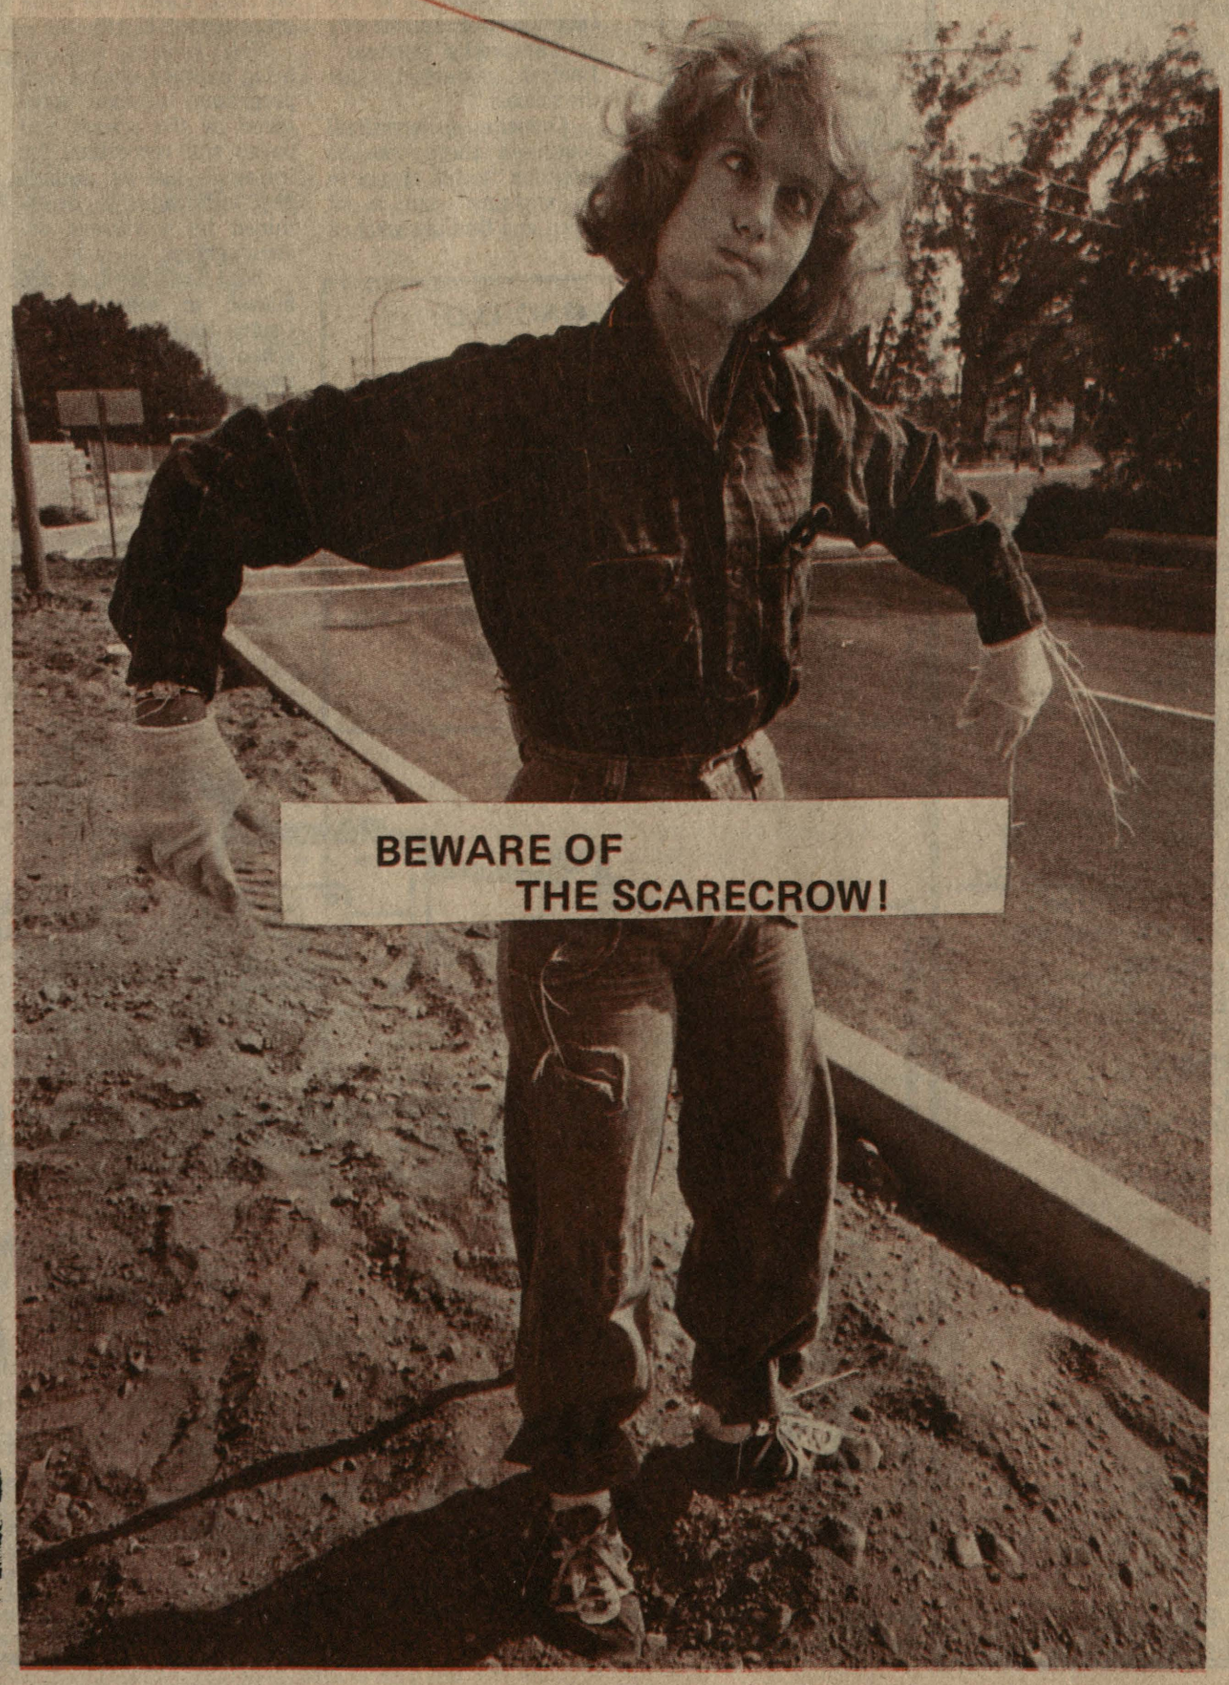
HELD A FIRST reading on two new ordinances dealing with a proposed antique and estate auction gallery. The first would reduce present business license fees for auctioneers from $50 for the first day and $25 for each additional day, to $100 yearly for those falling within the guidelines.

The second ordinance limits the number of auction galleries within the city to two for the first 50,000 in population.

- Heard requests from local seniors for a senior citizen's center during the first public hearing on federal Housing and Community Development funding for 1978-79.

"How can we be a little more forceful to let you know we mean what we say?," Marion Gordon asked councilmen. The local woman and seniors in the audience were told to attend one of the community sessions planned next month to get ideas on how to spend the $400,000 to $500,000 Campbell will receive in HCD funds next year.

- VOTED TO LET the Planning Commission know the Council is in accord with interium guidelines set up for development along Los Gatos Creek. The Santa Clara Valley Water District is seeking easements to part of the undeveloped land along the creekside. A major study underway by the district will be completed next year and at that time a permanent plan line will be developed.
- Councilmen Dean Chamberlin and Norm Paul volunteered to serve as a two-member screening committee for the seven applicants who are seeking a post on the new Historic Preservation Committee. In addition to representatives of the Council and two commissions, the group will include three community members.



Something to 'crow' about this Saturday

This Saturday, Oct. 15 the whole family is invited to the Campbell public library to take part in the Build a Scarecrow Contest at 2 p.m. Supplies, including straw and old clothes will be furnished. You just bring along the ideas. Above, Clerk Bonnie Buell of Campbell gives her impression of how a scarecrow should look. Winning entries will be on display at the library until Oct. 26 when contestants will be able to take them home. Call the library at 378-8122 for more details.

(Photography by Amy Huntoon)

we hear you

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

I think it's great that Campbell has the first three-wheeled radar unit in the state but I don't think it's fair. No one can tell they're using radar.

A Motorist

As long as they have all that heavy equipment out near Winchester boulevard (working near the high school) why don't they just go ahead and widen Winchester between Campbell and Latimer? It's been needed for a long time and we might be able to save some money since the equipment's already there.

Idea Man

Editor's note: According to Dave Valkenaar of the Campbell Public Works Department, the city doesn't have the right of way to all the property . . . and they don't have the money.

I think the city should do something about those news racks (with the explicit material). If they don't, I just might.

Old Timer

I don't know what all the complaining's about with those "porno racks." I went to take a look last week and couldn't find anything in front of the library.

From Missouri

Have you seen that signal sitting right in the intersection at Campbell and Winchester? What are they going to do, leave it there? It looks like it would be a real hazard to traffic.

Curious

Editor's note: That signal on the northeast corner will be coming out when new signals go into operation about Oct. 18 or sooner.

I'd just like to express my appreciation to Ranger Rick and Ranger Tony who patrol John D. Morgan Park. They've kept order and everything is so safe and serene. Just sign me.

A Grateful Grandma

What does the city plan to do with those mountains of dirt that are sitting in the middle of the (median strips) along the new loop street? From the curb cuts it looks like there's supposed to be pedestrian crossings on some of them but right now you'd need to be a hill climber to use them.

Long Time Resident

Editor's note: Some of those "mountains" have already been turned into mole hills with grading going on along Civic center drive last week. All of the areas are scheduled to be landscaped later this year.

There's a nice family who live on McCoy ave. who are being asked to leave their home because it's going to be torn down. They were given a written notice on Oct. 7 that they have to be out Oct. 27. That doesn't sound like enough notice to me. They're a fine family, keep the house and yard immaculate and have children in local schools so they need to find something close by.

Planners eye tots school

Plans for a day care nursery and conversion of a 91-unit apartment complex into a condominium highlight the Tuesday, Oct. 18 meeting of the Campbell Planning Commission.

Planners meet at 7:30 p.m. in the Council Chamber, 75 N. Central ave.

Architect Alec Osachoff is seeking approval of plans to construct a day care nursery at 241 W. Sunnyoaks ave. in a general commercial zone. The applicant is Mini-Skools, Ltd.

This application was continued from earlier meetings so a noise and safety study could be completed.

Fred Sahadi also comes before planners Tuesday with plans to convert his apartment complex at 185 Union ave. into a condominium.

Also on the agenda are public hearings on the application of Kenneth Oburn to construct a two-story residence at the rear of 77 S. First st. and plans by Brian Kelly for building a two-unit subdivision at 3560 and 3570 Gleason way.

Tickets up 10 fold in local crackdown

Close to 80 tickets were issued to pedestrians in September by the Campbell Police Department. That's 10 times more than during an average month.

The crackdown on jaywalkers began shortly after school started this year and has been concentrated in the downtown area and in front of Campbell High School.

According to Capt. John Butler most tickets were issued at the high school with 46 jaywalking citations given out and 13 tickets for walking against the traffic signals.

With the north loop street open local police will be keeping an extra sharp eye on that area too, Butler said.

Butler instituted the crackdown on pedestrian violators because he said the department is concerned over the way pedestrians are ignoring cross walks.

And, with traffic on the new loop streets traveling much faster than they did along the old congested Campbell avenue, Butler says the streets are much more dangerous for jaywalkers.

Council tries to get school study off of 'dead center'

Campbell will be spearheading a meeting with local school district officials to find out what, if anything, is happening to the Community Schools study initiated over a year ago.

By a 3-2 vote the Council directed staff to set up a meeting between trustees representing the Campbell elementary and high school districts, West Valley Joint College District and Council representatives.

Councilmen Dean Chamberlin and Ralph Doetsch opposed the motion.

"I was elected to the City Council to run the city of Campbell's business," Doetsch remarked, "not the schools."

Councilman Norm Paul countered there was no intention "to tell anyone to do anything" but to sit down and find out what, if anything, they plan to do.

Community schools programs are already underway in many locations throughout the county, including Castro and Cambrian centers locally.

The centers seek to bring existing classes and programs together sponsored by the schools and parks and recreation, for instance, and to include new offerings as determined by a citizens advisory group.

Both local centers are housed in school sites: Castro at the junior high school and Cambrian in the unused Bohnett School.

The citizens' group set up to study whether such a program would be accepted in Campbell completed their work earlier this year. The City Council endorsed the community schools concept, which allows the group, with help from staff, to proceed with definite plans.

The problem is that none of the school officials have followed suit.

Last week members of that study committee chided Campbell elementary school trustees for their lack of action and because the group could not get their study on the board agenda for discussion.

The action Monday is designed to get some response from school officials.

We have to get some response from trustees, Councilman Rusty Hammer declared, otherwise it's a waste of (City Manager Bob) Stephens time and the people's time.

Planners in a stew over disclosure law

By PAT SAFFORD

FOR THE PAST two years most of the seven member Campbell Planning Commission have not filed financial disclosure statements, required under state law. According to several commissioners, they were advised by city staff they did not have to file.

At the last meeting Commissioner Don Hebard expressed concern over proceeding that night after he had learned he should have filed.

"If we're in violation and we know it," Hebard asked, "are we legally seated? It's one thing not to know about it. What about any penalties?"

City Attorney Bob Dempster, who arrived late, told the Commission to go ahead with business as usual.

"I don't have a legal opinion and I haven't researched this yet," Dempster told commissioners, "but I'd just go ahead and have the meeting."

THE ATTORNEY added he didn't know why commissioners hadn't filed.

"This isn't the proper place to discuss this," Dempster added. "I'll get some information to you."

Records with the County Clerk's office show most commissioners haven't filed statements since 1975. Commissioner George Vierhus is one exception, since he was appointed after that time. His statement expired in April of 1977.

Another commissioner, Dan Campos, hasn't filed since his appointment in July of 1975. And a third commissioner, Peggy Pack, filed a statement in 1975 to include her term through 1977 (statements are of past, not future, holdings).

The confusion over requirements under the new Conflict of Interest and Disclosure Act, and the Political Reform Act is brought about partly by the confusing instructions.

A CURSORY look at the forms shows there's no mention of planning commissioners except a notation to refer to the Moscone Act.

The city's adoption of a Conflict of Interest Code (Code of Ethics) in 1976 didn't help either. It referred only to the City Council. And, in the absence of any local law governing planning commissioners, the Moscone Act provisions must be followed. These include filing yearly statements in April.

Penalties for violation of any of the provisions under the Moscone Act are severe. But it's doubtful anyone will prosecute since commissioners were told they didn't have to file.

These penalties include possibly overturning decisions made while the Commission was in violation (this is weighed against the public good), forfeiture of office or, if any commissioner realized an economic benefit because of that violation, a panelty of up to three times that benefit.

THE REASONS for enactment of the Moscone Act are spelled out in the state Government Code. The rationale includes assuring independence, impartiality and honesty of public officials, informing citizens of personal economic interests, preventing public office from being used for personal gain and insuring proper procedures in governmental decisions and that special interests don't influence those decisions.

Last Tuesday night Commissioner Hebard asked that a cover letter from the city accompany each disclosure statement, spelling out the reason they were not filed when due.

As of Monday three commissioners, Vierhus, Campos and Hebard had filed copies of their statements with the City Clerk's office. And Hebard filed two forms, one for 1976 and one for 1977.

If things weren't confusing enough already, the city is mandated to adopt a new, far reaching conflict of interest code by Jan. 1, 1978.

THIS CODE is expected to include many city staffers as well as commissioners who have an influence which can have financial impact on the public.

According to City Attorney Bob Dempster, the code he's working on will include many employees, such as Planning and Building Department staffers and perhaps even the employee who makes purchases for the city.

That new code is expected to come before the City Council in late November.

Free trash pick-up set

That free service is open to all customers in good standing within the city limits of Campbell on Friday, Oct. 21.

Green Valley has set down several rules regarding free pick-ups that day including:

- All trash must be in front of your residence before 7 a.m. that morning.
- Discards must be placed in disposable containers at the edge of the crub or in the street next to the curb. (Trash on the sidewalk, driveway and yard will not be picked up.)
- Trash must be in boxes, metal containers or heavy duty plastic bags tied and light enough for one man to carry. Trimmings may be bundled in four-foot lengths.
- No items such as furniture, appliances, boxes of dirt or rocks will be picked up.
- If you have an old trash can you want removed, place a note on it requesting it be picked up.

And don't be concerned if that mountain of trash you put out isn't picked up on the first go-round that morning. The trucks will be back for it later.

669 less students

Enrollment drop has reaches the local high school level

THE LITTLE RED school house has gone by the wayside. And so have overcrowded schools locally.

Enrollment figures from three local school districts show a net loss of 2,000 students over last year. And West Valley College, which expected a sharp jump in enrollment, has had to cut their spring classes by 10 per cent because that big increase in registration didn't come.

Hardest hit by declining student enrollment is the Moreland School District which is down 11 per cent over last year. Opening day enrollment was 5,291 this year compared to 5,974 for the 1976-77 school year.

According to district officials, that figure is just what they expected. Last year that oldest California school district had a 10 per cent drop.

Campbell elementary school district dropped 8.5 per cent over last year, according to Assistant Superintendent-Personnel Ron Rescigno. And they're within one student of estimates for this year.

THE SEPT. 29 enrollment check showed a total of 7,573 students this year compared to 8,273 on Oct. 6, 1976. The district had estimated they'd have 7,574 on Oct. 1 of this year.

Campbell Union High School district, which showed their first significant drop last year (3.4 per cent), is beginning to show the effects of the big drop in elementary school enrollment.

This year the dip increased to 4.8 per cent from 14,074 for opening day last year to 13,405 for the 1977-78 first day of school.

According to Assistant Superintendent Jay Russell, the high school district estimated they'd lost about 650 students and they're down 669 so far this year.

The trend, in the high school district, will continue in the future. Next year's drop could be closer to 800 students, Russell says, but it's too early in the year to make concrete predictions.

AT WEST VALLEY College, fall enrollment came in at 21,990, an increase over the 20,945 for 1976. But planning for the district had been based on projections of 24,500 students. A total of 109 class sections had to be cancelled this fall while 36 more were added.

In planning for the spring semester college trustees were told class sections will have to be cut by about 10 per cent.

With estimates for the elementary and high school districts being so accurate, there won't be the costly surprises suffered in past years. In one year alone the Campbell elementary district lost 300 more students than expected and ended up with a teacher surplus.

In past years you could translate the student drop in enrollment by state aid per pupil to come up with the overall loss in state income (and shift to local property taxes).

STATE LEGISLATION passed this year will help make up part of those losses.

Campbell elementary, for example, expects to get about $293,000 in additional state aid while Campbell high school district will get about $619,000 more.

What the latest enrollment figures do reveal though is there's substantially less students enrolled in public schools again this year.

And there'll be even less next year.

ARTHUR SCHLESINGER

Schlesinger to appear locally

Pulitzer Prize-winning author and former presidential assistant Arthur Schlesinger Jr., will appear in Campbell on Friday, Oct. 21.

Sponsored by West Valley College district's community services, Schlesinger will lecture on "The Future of the Presidency," that evening at Campbell High School.

Tickets for his appearance can be obtained by calling 379-9415 weekdays.

Schlesinger's book, "The Age of Jackson," won him the coveted prize in 1946. He later served as a special assistant to Presidents Kennedy and Johnson and resigned in 1964 to write, "A Thousand Days: John F. Kennedy in the White House."

The author has written 15 other books over the years and has garnered many awards including the Pulitzer Prize for biography, the National Book Award and the Eugene Debs Award in the Field of Education.

In the fall of 1966, Schlesinger joined the staff of the City University of New York as Albert Schweitzer Professor of the Humanities.

Council calls a halt to parking district spending

THE CITY COUNCIL called an abrupt halt to preliminary engineering studies being done for the modified downtown parking district Monday night.

"We did not authorize any bucks to be spent," declared Mayor Bill Podgorsek. The other four councilmen agreed.

The modified proposal, which includes The Factory and The Bodega (instead of most of the downtown area under the original plan) came before the Council earlier this year. But the formal agreement has been signed by just one of the two applicants (Factory co-owner Bill McLaughlin).

In the absence of that legal document the city could be liable for up to half of the costs being incurred for studies if the district doesn't go through.

MONDAY NIGHT they made it clear they don't intend to be in that position . . . again.

"Once is enough," said Councilman Dean Chamberlin.

He was referring to the estimated $100,000 in costs the city had to pay when the original downtown parking district fell through.

PUBLIC WORKS Director Joe Elliott said he felt he was acting within guidelines approved earlier by the Council when he gave the okay to proceed with engineering studies two weeks ago. But he didn't find one councilman in agreement Monday night.

"The Council did not authorize that," declared Councilman Norm Paul.

The vote to stop all work immediately was 5-0.

Paramedics may be on fee basis

CAMPBELL PARAMEDICS will be serving a much larger area and will be charging for services, if the county-wide paramedic plan being drafted by county supervisors is adopted.

Under guidelines approved recently, the county would be divided into 10 service areas and chargeable costs would be recovered through billing clients. No fee schedule has been discussed.

According to the statement issued by supervisors last week, almost 90 per cent of the county population is covered by some type of medical insurance, and "the universally chargeable cost could not negatively impact most citizens."

While the lion's share of paramedic services would be performed by the fire departments, the county plan includes paramedic-ambulance service as well.

UNDER THE LATEST guidelines, fire fighters would receive EMT I (advanced first aid) training so they could give aid until paramedics could arrive.

The cost of that training, supervisors said, would be borne by individual cities.

At present Campbell paramedics serve all of the city and a small part of San Jose, under an auto aid agreement. The cost is paid for out of the city's operating tax.

Under the county program, Campbell paramedics would be serving a much larger area, including Los Gatos and parts of San Jose. The fees charged for the service would offset part of that operating cost.

Fried in the french fries

A hungry man was arrested last week in Campbell for being drunk in public after they received a call from an all night restaurant.

When police arrived they found the 21 year-old local man with his face in a plate of French fries and catsup.

As the officer tried to rouse the man he reportedly tried to pick up some French fries and pushed the "meal" into his left cheek.

The man then tried for the coffee cup and missed, placing his hand in the now cold liquid.

Not one to give up easily, the man then reportedly grasped the cup and missed his mouth, spilling coffee down the front of his shirt.

He was helped to the police car by the officer and taken to the county jail facility.

Chamber stymied over job

For the past few weeks Executive Vice President Ted Rogers of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce has been sticking pretty close to the office. But not by choice.

The Chamber has had trouble filing their approved CETA position for a community services receptionist.

Anyone interested in this 40 hour-per-week job can call Ted weekdays at 378-6252 for more information.

He'll be answering the phone.

Second skateboard park gets the nod

Construction will begin in about a week on a second skateboard park in Campbell.

Last Tuesday night William Whitney got the nod from planning commissioners to build a park at 2155 S. Bascom ave. in a general commercial zone.

That now vacant parcel will house Concrete Curl, as well as a pro shop and game room for patrons.

The vote was a close one with four commissioners in favor, Commissioner Don Hebard opposed and Commissioners Oleg Lubeckis and Peggy Pack abstaining. Lubeckis said earlier he hasn't made up his mind about skateboard parks and Pack's firm prepared the noise study required for the development.

Earlier, commissioners approved anohter skateboard park to be built on Winchester boulevard, near Sunnyoaks avenue.

In other action last week the commission:

- Recommended approval on a 5-0 vote (with Commissioner Pack abstaining) plans by Paul Bosholm to construct 57 single family homes at 701 El Patio drive.
- Continued to the next meeting the application by Alec Osachoff to construct a day care nursery at 241 Sunnyoaks ave. (Commissioner Pack abstained). The noise report had not been received prior to the meeting, Planning Director Art Kee explained.
- Ordered a safety study for a proposal by Terry Faylor and Ultra Pure systems, Inc. to convert a warehouse at 1150-G Dell ave. into an outdoor water treatment facility. That application, which includes storage of chemicals, will come back Nov. 1.
- Continued to the first meeting in January the two year-old application by Campbell Building and Investment Company, Inc. to approval of plans to construct an office building at 54 N. Central ave.
- Continued for 30 days the application by Norman Bartell and Ed Elfer to convert a residence at 69 E. Hamilton ave. into an office.

POINTING OUT the boundary line which separates Campbell and San Jose in the Curtner-Cambrian area is Ben Schramm, president of the Cambrian Area Homeowners Association. That group has been fighting to keep their homes in the unincorporated area from becoming part of the city of San Jose. Last week that effort got a boost when the Local Agency Formation Commission (LAFCO) called for a full-scale study of the area including fire and police services and a look at the present San Jose sphere of influence. Short range plan for the homeowners group is to see the Cambrian fire station saved, Schramm says (San Jose has announced plans to close the station) and their long range goal is to get the area into Campbell's sphere of influence.

Looking for a private place?

A 24-year old San Jose man was arrested on charges of trespassing at The Factory last week and he argued he didn't know what all the fuss was about. He was just looking for a restroom.

According to the security guard, he observed the man walk by the restrooms, between two buildings and then remove the boards from a crawl space before the man entered the shopping center's storage area.

The guard, and the police officer, didn't buy the story.

FIRST LOOP ACCIDENT

The first auto accident on the new Civic Center drive was a no injury fender bender last Tuesday involving two women.

Police reports say one woman said she was stopped at the First st. intersection when she saw the other driver stop in the left lane. She proceeded and was struck.

The second driver said she had stopped to avoid some barricades in the road and was struck when she started up again.

No citations were issued.

GIRL RAPED

Police are looking for the suspect in a rape attack on an 15 year-old Westmont High School student last week.

According to reports, the girl was walking along Hamilton ave. near Third st. about 9:20 p.m. when the suspect approached her and threatened her with a knife.

She was taken to a nearby construction site where the attack occurred.

The girl was later taken by police to Valley Medical Center for treatment.

This is the same spot where a woman was abducted and raped several weeks ago. That time a man jumped into her car stopped at the intersection and forced her to drive to Vasona.

The description of the two suspects is different.

GRAND THEFT

A Campbell man reported the theft of $1,545 in tools and office equipment from his car parked in the carport of his Union ave. apartment last week.

FIRE HYDRANT SWIPED

A car damaged the fire hydrant at Campbell ave. at Railway recently. And to add insult to injury, someone stole the hydrant last week.

According to police reports, the $275 hydrant had not been secured after it was knocked loose earlier.

Trudy's, a women's clothing shop in The Pruneyard, was reportedly robbed of women's leisure suits valued at over $8,000 last Saturday.

According to police reports, the shop was broken into and 90 suits, valued at $90 each, taken from the racks.

MUSIC SHOP ROBBED

Campbell Music Center on Campbell ave. reported the theft of $2,400 worth of electric guitars last Friday.

According to reports, burglars broke into the shop and took the four instruments.

Mock school explosion swamps local facility

Disaster drill at hospital brings in 34 young victims

"HELP ME! Somebody help me," the young woman screamed. Covered with third degree "burns" of her arms, the woman was one of 34 "victims" who descended on Campbell Community Hospital within minutes last Friday afternoon.

The hospital's disaster drill was set around a pretend earthquake in the Saratoga area which caused an explosion in a local high school chemistry lab.

Most "victims" arrived with simulated burns, bleeding cuts from flying glass and in shock (simulated with white face make-up). But there were some critical cases too including one broken neck, a youth impaled on a broomstick, a heart attack victim and one student who had lost an arm.

The idea of the drill is to find the strengths and weaknesses of a hospital's emergency procedure when it isn't "the real thing."

BUT, FOR the first few moments, most hospital personnel didn't know it was a drill. County communications notified the hospital of the earthquake at 2:30 p.m. Friday afternoon and at 2:43 p.m. the first "victims" arrived, some moaning and one "fainting" near the emergency entrance.

The victims were all volunteers from the Campbell High School drama department, West Valley College drama and nursing students and local Boy Scouts.

There were a few cases of overacting but most played their parts well including the "interfering bystander" who kept yelling at doctors and nurses (He was finally escorted to the waiting room).

ACCORDING TO Dr. Mark Campbell, the drill was very valuable and helped the hospital critique it's present disaster plan.

For one thing, in any future real disasters the staff will not try to get vital signs taken (blood pressure, etc.) prior to getting patients into the emergency room.

The second lesson learned was in conducting the drill itself; making sure the identification tags each "victim" wears are correct.

Of the 34 students one was supposed to be dead on arrival (DOA) but the tag just specified "full arrest" meaning no heart beat or breathing.

"I didn't know she was supposed to be DOA so I revived her and she walked out of the hospital," Dr. Campbell laughed.

Treated like 'jokers'

EDITOR:

As a member of the Campbell community, I stepped forth when asked as a citizen to help in a community project; a study on community schools.

I have never before seen people treated as if they were jokers in the deck who can be shuffled and get lost in the pile (bureaucracy in schools).

School administrators have been acting as if their private little worlds are being threatened. And they frustrate the community to the point that I no longer have faith in their ability to provide education.

In the three local districts (elementary, high school and college), it appears the school administrators are using their bosses (the trustees) as though they were puppets.

This is my impression after 200 hours of meetings and 10 months of my time and efforts. This in addition to serving as president of Campbell Little League, chairman of the Campbell Area Youth Sports Association, working 40 hours on the job each week, helping my wife manage 24 apartments while serving as co-chairman of the Community Study Committee.

I was part of the committee of citizens who were charged with the responsibility of seeing if our community would accept the "concept" of community schools. We received very favorable results.

In our efforts we were placed on our own and had no imput, help or other direction from the groups who charged us with this job (Campbell City Council, Campbell Union School District, Campbell Union High School District and West Valley Joint Community College trustees)

We were pitted between the struggle for power from community school personnel and a lack of participation by trustees and their representatives.

But we did complete our charge and now the community is waiting for their action.

How do I feel the people can help? I think citizens should get up off their dead backsides before they go to the polls in the next election and go sit and watch your trustees in action at a meeting. You will see what you're getting for your vote.

Our committee did receive the endorsement of the community schools concept from the City Council. But, as yet, there have been no other responses.

I would also ask the community to go and ask the school boards how the "community service taxes" are being spent. I'll bet many citizens didn't know they were paying 5 cents per $100 assessment of property value to the schools either. This money is suppose to benefit the community through the use of our PUBLIC school facilities.

In the Campbell elementary district for instance, out of the $182,593 budget there was $28,000 spent on noon duty assistants (plus benefits). I feel that's a high price to pay for babysitters while the employees have lunch.

And one other thing. Your recent article on the joint study session didn't reflect who has the most power in decision making. The Campbell board failed to realize who they work for and who has the FINAL VOTE.

AN EXCUSE THAT DIDN'T WORK

The first traffic ticket issued on the new loop street (Civic Center drive) was handed out last Thursday.

Motorcycle officer Al Wheeler says he clocked the motorist doing 38 in a 25 MPH zone and pulled her over.

"But officer," the woman argued, "the speed limit on this street has ALWAYS been 35 MPH."

"Lady," Wheeler told the embarrassed woman, "this street has only been open for three hours."

Editor's note: In checking this out we learned that the property was sold almost a year ago with the understanding that the family get to remain for a year. The former owner said he's also been trying to look for another place for them to rent but so far hasn't found anything. The problem is finding a home with the same rent; $125 a month, he says.

I find that new loop street very confusing. Why does it keep going from three lanes to two lanes and then back to three again? Also just before you reach Third st. it goes to two lanes without a left turn lane. I go to the bank a lot and I got stranded twice the first two days trying to get into the middle lane to make a left turn.

Confused

Editor's note: For most of the new loop street (Civic Center drive) that left lane is suppose to be a turn in and turn out lane. That one block you mention narrows to two lanes because of visual problems with a house too close to the corner.

Any gripes, kudos, or ideas? Call 378-9136 to sound off.

Love slips a note under Saj's door

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Bittersweet memories return to haunt. Hold remembrance of past in check and embrace the future. Believe it or not, Ari, the best is yet to be! You'll see.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Most mortals are convinced that one and one make two. But you, Taurus, in your infinite wisdow, know that there is much more to it than simple arithmetic. You know that one and one make love. Energy soars.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Problem pushed to back burner may boil over this week. Question of ethics involved. Ancient holy man once said, "You become responsible for what you have loved." Mull it over, Gem.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Don't be manipulated by local flim-flam artist, Moonbaby. Separate "wants" from "needs". Not an easy task, to be sure, but one you must tackle. As week cruises to a close, Cupid waits in ambush. How nice!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Personal desires may have to be postponed to achieve career goal. Now, don't start sulking! After all, Leo, you can't laugh 365 days a year. You're a lion, not a hyena!

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): When you say your prayers this week, Virgo, pray for patience. Family and friends)Even total strangers) put the bite on you for time and capital. Stand firm by the ramparts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Stifle urge to yawn away these lovely autumn days, Lib. New phase shaping up. Opportunity is presented. Seize it. Squeeze week until it is bone dry. On last day, go play in a corn field.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Surprise attack may have you completely "bombed out" by midweek. If so, call on reserves for counter-move that restores balance of power. Last day finds you in secret conversation on the "red phone."

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): There's a change in the weather, but not much change in you, Saj. Reluctant to give up mood of summer-past, you may be ignoring important requests. Plant feet firmly, crouch low, and tackle commitments. Or, last day, love slips a note under your door.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Pendulum swings and you suffer minor setback. Loved one involved. Try to coordinate your "tick" with his "tock". Lower your voice and profile. Week ends with a "shhh!".

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Ah, riches and the juice of the grape, are they not one and the same? If so, this week you're a millionaire, Aquari. Everything flows your way, including good will. Last day finds you reeling.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Coming events cast their shadows and you must be prepared, Pisces. Loved one offers advice. Listen, but make your own decision. Week ends on key of B for "buzz". You get one!

Violence in schools

Problems of violence and vandalism in California schools is on an upward trend, prompting special legislative hearings on the issue to come up with revisions of the State penal code in hopes of reducing these crimes.

State Senator David A. Roberti, D-Hollywood, Chairman of the Joint Legislative Committee for the Revision of the Penal Code said the hearings will seek a wide range of public and expert testimony to gather information helpful in making legislative recommendations.

Drug abuse treatment

Governor Brown has signed a bill allowing children 12 years old or over to seek drug abuse treatment without parental consent.

The state's methadone program is exempt under the new law.

Sponsored by Assemblywoman Leona Egeland, D-San Jose, the bill was passed after testimony was heard blaming some of the drug abuse problem facing youth on the parents themselves.

"Disregard for conservation"

Assemblyman Gene Chappie (R-Roseville) blasted an announcement by state Resources Agency Secretary Huey D. Johnson as a "blatant disregard for conservation" and a move that would "probably cause the (state) to lose millions of dollars" for resource conservation work. Johnson issued a decision discountinuing the California Resources Conservation Commission as of Oct. 1.

"Frankly, I consider this to be a very precipitous action," Chappie said. Chappie met with Director of the State Department of Conservation Priscilla Grew after announcement of the decision, and he says Grew "Adamantly" refused to postpone department action until a meeting of the 133 Resource Conservation District representatives could be called.

Chappie said he intends to introduce legislation in January which will restore funding of the Commission.

Hearings on overtime

The site of hearings on the controversial measure banning compulsory overtime has been changed from San Francisco to Los Angeles, Assemblyman Tom Bates' office announced. Bates said the Senate Industrial Relations Committee made the move "to give a larger population a chance to participate" in the hearings, scheduled for Nov. 7 and 8 at 10 a.m. The hearings will be held at the California Museum of Science and Industry, 700 State Drive, Expo Park, Los Angeles.

Further information may be obtained from Bates' Oakland office at (415) 464-0786.

Child abuse reporting

With its intent to increase the number of reports to law enforcement, concerning suspected cases of child abuse, a new California law has expanded the categories of individuals already required to report such crimes.

Existing law requires certain medical, school and social agency personnel to report suspected child abuse cases to police or county health departments.

Included under the new law, Assembly Bill 1058, are marraige family or child counselors, psychologists, peace officers and probation officers.

Pepsico can merge

Governor Brown has signed special legislation allowing Pepsico to merge with Pizza Huts, Inc., the governor's office announced.

$1.7 billion fund surplus

The state general fund wound up with a $1.7 billion surplus, State Controller Kenneth Cory's office announced. The office said the figure represents a growth of nearly $1 billion in a year's time, during the 1976-77 fiscal year.

"This unprecedented surplus condition is the product of a year of inflation and economic growth in the state which far outstripped attempts to predict general fund revenues and expenditures," Cory said. He added the surplus gives the fund a "healthy head start" for the current fiscal year, but cautioned changing economic conditions cannot guarantee the longevity of the surplus.

The surplus allowed the state to operate through the last fiscal year without internal borrowing to meet cash needs — the fifth successive year it has happened.

Government research service slated

California's Salk Institute of Biological Studies, which conducts a great deal of research in cancer biology, may create a new division devoted to government services research. The proposed action follows the announcement of discussions between the institute and Richardson-Merrell, Inc., which intends to donate its biological vaccine operations, plus 156 acres of land in Swiftwater, Penn., to the non-profit institute.

The arrangement calls for continued operations of needed vaccines, and for continued research activities at the Swiftwater site.

Institute spokesman John Pinto estimated the start-up time for the project at one year, following negotiations expected to last two to six months.

Consumer protection

Governor Brown has signed legislation designed to protect consumers from faulty or unsatisfactory equipment. AB 1512, authored by Assemblyman Vic Fazio (D-Sacramento) requires the State Emergy Commission to adopt standards governing the safety and durability of solar devices sold after November 1, 1978. Equipment not meeting minimum state requirements would be prohibited from sale.

Fazio's measure accompanies another solar measure, AB 1558, which will increase the 10 per cent solar energy tax credit available to homeowners to 55 per cent of the cost of buying and installing solar devices.

Housing budget

New legislation signed into law by Governor Brown this week has boosted to $1.5 million the $500,000 annual budget of the Department of Housing and Community Development, earmarked for assisting non profit organizations and local government with efforts to provide local income housing in rural areas.

Drought assistance

Stockmen and grain farmers operating on non-irrigated land have until Dec. 15 to apply for financial assistance under the Livestock Raiders' Disaster Relief Act of 1977, according to the office of Assemblyman Larry Chimbole (D-Lancaster). The assistance is available to those suffering drought-related losses.

Solar bill confusion

Traditional confusion surrounding the Legislature's last days of regular session spilled into Assemblyman Gary Hart's solar energy tax credit measure, leaving the bill's major provision in doubt.

The measure is intended to provide property owners a 55 per cent tax credit on the purchase and installation of solar energy devices.

Due to last minute amendments, however, to include language dealing with an unrelated pollution issue, the bill's title was changed, leaving out the word "taxation."

Reading the bill's amended title, the Legislative Counsel then deleted the tax credit portion of the bill, before the Legislature unwittingly approved it by unanimous vote.

The state Franchise Tax Board, however, ruled the bill's tax credit inclusive in the legislation, recommending "clean-up" legislation for clarification of the law during the next session.

On canal controversy

Political pundit Pat Buttram has mailed a telegram to former Governor Ronald Reagan concerning the controversial Panama Canal treaty.

The telegram reads:

"The Panama Canal is the only government agency of the United States that is not losing millions of dollars a day. Naturally, we have to get rid of it."

Brown's appointees

The California Chamber of Commerce has released a report summarizing characteristics shared by government appointees of Governor Brown.

Highlights of the Chamber's findings include:

— 72.5 per cent are Democrats.

— 36.9 per cent fall into the middle age category of 36 to 45.

23.3 per cent are attorneys.

— 28.8 per cent have had previous government experience.

— 40 per cent have law degrees.

— 28.2 per cent are from minority groups.

Donated foods practice boosted

A new California law by Senator John Nejedly, R-Walnut Creek, will expand the concept of conservation to food supply, allowing county governments to establish "clearing houses" to assist nonprofit charitable organizations in obtaining donated foods.

The measure was enacted to prevent the waste of edible food at a time when charitable organizations can utilize it for group meal plans and the needs of individuals," explained Nejedly.

County health departments would be responsible for inspection of the donated food items.

Last wk. I enjoyed a delightful lunch at the BLACK KETTLE . . . in fact I returned the next evening w/a group who thoroughly enjoyed their dining experience. The interior is so delightful w/an abundance of greenery & open beamed ceilings & rich warm wood paneling. I highly recommend BBQ'd Prime Rib Bones w/spec. sauce, Teriyaki Steak-a-bob & Chicken Breasts. You'll serve your own salad & be served either baked potato or rice pilaf & a loaf of "hot" bread. EDITOR'S NOTE: Dorothy Terrill, a registered dietitian and instructor at De Anza College, holds an M.S. in nutrition from UC-Berkeley. Questions about nutrition are invited. Address all questions to: Dorothy Terrill, Nutrition Notes, Suburban Newspaper Publications Inc., P.O. Box 368, Cupertino, 95014. Mrs. Terrill will answer questions as space allows.

HERE IS that perennial question — "Is brown sugar better for us than white sugar?"

All table sugar is the same chemically, whether from cane or beets. Both white and brown sugar and honey are made up of two simple sugars — glucose and fructose. These sweeteners all react in the same way in the body and all contribute to dental decay and obesity. Therefore, there is no advantage, health-wise, to eating honey or brown sugar instead of white sugar. They are all equally undesirable for a nutritionally well-balanced diet.

If you stop to think of it, have you ever seen insects invade your sugar canister? They might be in the flour, oatmeal, and cereals but those "varmints" stay away from the sugars. Those creatures, it seems, know that there is nothing in there to nourish them, something that most humans haven't discovered or seem unable to believe.

The misconception about brown sugar and honey vs. white sugar is perpetuated by the health food industry and "natural" food proponents. In some cases, natural food is better than the refined. For example, whole wheat flour provides more nutrition than white flour and brown rice is better nutritionally than white rice. But in the case of sugars, the state of refinement has little to do with the nutrients they provide.

MOST PEOPLE want some sugar in their diet and enjoy the sweet flavor. However, consumers should not be deceived into thinking that sugar is needed for energy. A piece of bread or fruit will do just as nicely as a quick source of glucose for the blood. The body converts the starch of the bread to sugar quite rapidly and the fruit sugar, fructose, is readily converted to glucose for the body's use.

Sugar of some form is needed for some food reactions to occur. For instance, in making bread, some sugar is needed as food for the yeast to get started. It is needed in wine making and acts as a browning agent in pancakes and waffles. However, these small amounts of sugar that are added to recipes are not likely to do any harm. It is the concentrated sweets such as candy, frostings, jellies and cakes that are harmful to the teeth and add plenty of calories without carrying any nutrients along with them. They are among the "empty calorie" foods.

Sugar contributes to obesity, one of the major health problems in the U.S. All carbohydrate, including sugar, contains four calories per gram. This translates into 16 calories in one level teaspoon of regular white sugar. Comparing calories in one cup of some of the sugars: brown sugar — 814 calories, white sugar — 770 calories, honey — 1034 calories, and corn syrup — 939 calories. The differences are due to weight — a cup of brown sugar weighs more than a cup of white sugar. Food tables show small amounts of some minerals in the brown sugar and honey but these are too small to be significant in light of the large number of calories that they carry.

SUGAR IS sugar. Americans consume more than 100 pounds per person per year. It is hidden in many prepared products. Cereals, of course, are especially noted for being carriers of large amounts of sugar — some hidden and some flaunted as "sugar coated." Consumers who read labels will be surprised to see how many prepared foods have sugar listed as an ingredient.

Appropriations cut

Governor Brown has reduced appropriations by nearly two thirds contained in a bill that will allow low interest loans to small businesses in California.

Before approving the bill, AB 881 by Assemblyman Willie Brown, D-San Francisco, Brown reduced the program's funding from $3 million to $1.1 million.

The governor's veto message stated the program must first be proven successful in promoting small business enterprise before the state will assume the full investment to support it.

Funds extended

Governor Brown has signed a bill extending $1 million in state funds for the development of low income rural housing.

The legislation, authored by Assemblyman Peter Chacon, D-San Diego, puts money into the state's Rural Development Loan Fund which was established in 1976.

New first for meetings

For the first time in history the California Highway Commission will be opening its budget sessions to the public in search of citizen input concerning highway project priorities.

The meetings will be held throughout the state.

More information is available by writing the commission at 1120 N St., Sacramento, 95814, or calling 916-445-4885.

First pay hike in 8 years

Statewide elected employees will receive their first pay hike in eight years under a new law signed by Governor Brown. The raises will go into effect Jan. 1, 1979, with the greatest increases going to top state officials.

Brown's $49,100 salary will remain the same, but salaries for the lieutenant governor, state controller, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction and the state treasurer will be increased by roughly 21 per cent. Salaries for those positions will go from $35,000 to $42,500.

Other top officials, the attorney general and members of the Board of Equalization, will receive pay hikes of about 12 per cent with the attorney general's $47,000 salary topping the list.

Brown earlier warned he would veto the law if it included a provision boosting his salary to $65,000. The provision was deleted, along with a passage granting the officials a cost of living increase of five per cent per year.

Records change

Governor Brown signed AB 385, a bill that would allow transsexuals to alter their birth certificates to reflect their new sex. The original certificate would be confidential unless the person affected consented to making it public.

"Kicking the habit"

A toll-free number for smokers who want to quit is now open after a telephone company error blacked out most of the country, including California. Quit kits are available to smokers or their friends, by calling (800) 631-7676. The project is backed by Smokenders, an eastern firm dedicated to "kicking the habit."

Water conservation must continue

"One swallow does not make a summer" is the message being promoted to California water users by the State Drought Emergency Task Force. The reminder is to continue water conservation practices in spite of recent rainfall.

Treatment alternative

Convictions for drunk driving may not necessarily mean a fine or jail, under a bill signed by Governor Brown this week, authored by Senator Arlen Gregorio, D-San Mateo.

The new law allows judges to sentence the offender to an alcoholism treatment program for one year, in lieu of losing driving privileges.

The law extends the idea of treatment programs for drunk driving offenders to a statewide basis, after a two year pilot program in 1976 and 1977 tested the effectiveness of the concept.

Harsher penalties

Discrimination against handicapped citizens will result in harsher penalties in cases of civil rights violations, under a new California law.

The measure increases the maximum punitive damage award in such cases from $500 to $1,000.

Improve lives of senior citizens

The California Department of Aging is conducting "social policy" public meetings to develop recommendations of government services at the state and local level to "improve the lives of future senior citizens" throughout California.

New inheritance tax legislation

New legislation affecting inheritance taxation of open space land has been sent to the Governor for his signature. According to State Senator John Dunlap's office the bill would aid people who have inherited land but cannot afford the state inheritance or federal estate taxes that accompany it.

Dunlap's bill, SB 861, would allow inheritors the option of granting part of the land they receive to the state, or giving easement/development rights to the state if they do not have enough money, or receive enough liquid assets. to pay the taxes assessed against the land.

Under the easement option, the state would be allowed to withhold development of the property involved. The measure, according to the senator's office, is designed to achieve the maintenance of open space property. The measure would, however, allow existing industry to continue on easement-granted property, such as farming.

Housing loan bill forwarded

The legislature has given final approval to a measure providing $500,000 for short-term loans for initial development costs in non-profit low income housing projects.

Senate Bill 933 would provide short-term loans through the Department of Housing and Community Development to help local government agencies and non-profit organizations to make initial site-cost estimates, architectural drawings, and Market analysis to obtain federal financing.

Lawyers should respond to attacks

Taking note of Watergate and other political crimes involving lawyers, the incoming president of the California State Bar told California attorneys attending the Bar's 50th anniversary convention they should "respond to unworthy or unfounded attacks" on their integrity as a group.

Garvin F. Shallenburger of Santa Ana proposed a counterattack on bad publicity, including:

— Develop a State Bar public relations campaign.

— Answering critics through appropriate channels.

— Promoting adequate court funding to assist lawyers "in functioning as they are intended to function."

CLUTCH CATCH — Blackford wide receiver Guy Gandenberger hauls in a clutch pass from quarterback Jack Little in the closing minutes of last Friday's game with Del Mar, giving the Braves a first and goal-to-go situation at the six yard line. But the Braves failed to score and lost 8-6. Defending on the play is Del Mar's Joe Medeiros, who batted away a last minute pass in the endzone to preserve the victory.

Del Mar in tie for 1st

Oreglia leads goalline stands in Don victory

By DICK SPARRER
Sports Editor

IT'S SAID that an outstanding offensive football player can literally smell the goalline when he gets close. And when he nears that touchdown stripe, there's just no stopping him on his way to the endzone.

Well, the same may be true for a defensive player if Del Mar's Larry Oreglia is any example. But the situation's reversed for Oreglia — when his back gets close to the goalline there's no getting by him!

Oreglia is a linebacker who seems to have a nose for the goalline — at least it seemed like that last Friday afternoon when the Dons were visiting Blackford.

Del Mar came up with a pair of goalline stands to stick the Braves with an 8-6 loss. And big number 70 was in on every tackle when the Blackford bunch tried to score inside the five.

The win left the Dons 2-0 in West Valley Athletic League play, and it was their second close victory. A week earlier Del Mar nipped Campbell 7-0.

Del Mar will try to make it three straight on Friday when the Dons host winless Prospect in a 3:30 p.m. game in the Don bowl.

The loss dropped Blackford to 0-2 in league play, the Braves falling to Leigh in their opener 15-7.

BLACKFORD WILL try to get on the winning track on Friday when the Braves visit Westmont for a 3:30 p.m. battle.

Del Mar sits in a three way tie for the WVAL lead with its 2-0 record. Del Mar, Leigh and Camden are each 2-0 going into games this Friday. Los Gatos is close behind at 1-0.

The Dons made one third quarter touchdown and a two point conversion stand up for the victory against the Braves even though Blackford threatened a couple of times.

Blackford actually scored first in the game on its very first possession.

Guy Gandenberger returned a George Rodriguez 34 yard punt nine yards to the Don 49.

Ty Thurston ran twice for 26 yards and after hitting the line for no gain on a run try, Jack Little passed to Gandenberger for four yards to the 19.

On the very next play Little hit Tim Stanton on a quick slant in pass for the 19 yards and six points with 7:46 left in the first period. The attempted conversion kick failed.

Gandenberger, Gary Morton and Brian Fox came up with key defensive plays after the kick-off to force the Dons into a punting situation.

Rodriguez' punt sailed 49 yards and into the Brave endzone and Blackford took over at the 20.

THE BRAVES took off on a long, time consuming drive that covered 79 yards in 19 plays. But Blackford came up a yard short and Oreglia was the man responsible.

A 16 yard pass from Little to Gandenberger, a seven yard run by Little, an 18 yard toss from Little to Rich Andelin and a 12 yard flip from Little to Stanton gave Blackford a first and goal situation at the Don two.

But Oreglia got together with Ed Toro to stop Thurston for just a yard gain on first down.

The teams exchanged penalties to leave the ball at the three and Oreglia combined with Dave Hernandez to stop Thurston at the one on second down.

On third down Oreglia teamed with Jim Slattery and Bob Quadros to half Thurston for no gain and on fourth down Oreglia combined with Bob Cure and Hernandez to halt Little for no gain and give the Dons the ball at the one.

The clubs traded the ball on interceptions before Blackford drove to the 26 to try a 42 yard field goal. But Mike delaPena's field goal failed on the last play of the first half.

Del Mar took over at its own 49 early in the third quarter and started a drive for what proved the game winning touchdown.

PASS PROTECTION — Blackford's Mike DelaPena drops back to pass behind some excellent pass protection blocking by his offensive line. The Braves, however, went down to an 8-6 loss at the hands of the Del Mar Dons.
(Photography by Dick Sparrer)

BRUCE PROTHRO carried twice for 21 yards on the drive and Rodriguez carried twice for 14 yards to set up an eight yard run by Scott Evans for the touchdown with 5:10 left in the third to tie the score 6-6.

Del Mar, attempting to kick the extra point, got a bad snap on the conversion try. But Jeff Lane scooped up the ball and got a fine block from the kicker, Rodriguez, to cruise into the endzone for the two point conversion that ended as Del Mar's margin of victory.

Rodriguez had a field goal try fly wide to the left on the first play of the fourth period and Del Mar never threatened again. But Blackford certainly did.

The Braves drove down to the Don six with 1:32 left to play, thanks to a fine Gandenberger catch of a Little pass good for 31 yards.

After a penalty moved the Braves back to the 11, Oreglia went to work again and dropped a Blackford ball carrier on first down at the nine.

Quadros and Hernandez combined to drop Little for a five yard loss and Joe Medeiros broke up a delaPena pass try in the endzone to force Blackford into a fourth and goal position on the 14.

DELAPENA CAME ON to attempt a 29 yard field goal, a three pointer that would have given the Braves the victory, but Blackford never got the kick away because of a bad snap and Del Mar took over at the 19 with 34 seconds left. The Dons ran the clock out to secure the victory.

Neither team performed consistently well offensively in the game but the Braves did dominate the football. Blackford ran 61 offensive plays and rolled up 202 total yards while the Dons ran 37 plays for 157 yards.

Clifton Warren led the Don ground attack with 53 yards on eight carries and Rodriguez carried twice for 14 yards.

Prothro completed two of four passes for 72 yards, one a 70 yarder to Rodriguez, and Lane hooked up on one of six tosses for nine yards. Medeiros caught a pair of passes for 11 yards for the Dons.

Thurston led all ground gainers in the game, picking up 64 yards on 16 totes for the Braves.

Little was eight for 19 for 124 yards through the skies and delaPena was two for eight for 25 yards.

Gandenberger pulled down five passes for 92 yards to lead Blackford receivers. Stanton snagged two aerials for 31 yards and Andelin caught two for 27. Thurston caught one pass for the Braves.

OREGLIA LED DON defense in the win with 13 tackles. One of his tackles was for a loss of yardage and five of them were inside the DM 10 yard line.

Shed Chandler was in on 10 stops in the game, including sacking the Brave quarterback twice, and Quadros made nine tackles. Medeiros made five tackles and batted away three passes in the secondary for Del Mar and John Callaway made six tackles, including one for loss of yardage.

Hernandez, Slattery and Toro were also top tacklers for the Dons. Toro also intercepted a pass.

Rodriguez and Warren were also in on a pair of stops and Todd Scolari, Cure, Eric Wilson, Brad McCleary, Joe Zambataro, Dave Castillo, Mark Robertson and Pete Narlesky were in on key defensive plays for the Dons.

Paul Zampierin, delaPena, Scott Hall, Dean Lingbeck and Tim Carrasco sparked the Brave devense in the game.

Zampierin and Hall made five tackles each, Hall sacking the quarterback once. DelaPena picked off a pair of passes for Blackford and Lingbeck and Carrasco were each in on four tackles. Carrasco sacked the quarterback once and hit a Don ball carrier for a loss on another play.

Gandenberger and Morton also dropped Dons for losses and Brad Satterfield, Fox, Phil Portale and Thurston made a pair of tackles each. Dan Publicover, Mark Hendrickson, Andelin and Kris Stiles were also in on key hits for Blackford.

Paulin (Camden) romped home to a victory all alone clocked at 21:08. Avrit finished second for the Vikings at 21:32.

Valley drops 28-21 decision

'Bouncing ball' costs Vikes against Diablo

THERE WERE a lot of things West Valley College head football coach John Nicholas could have said last Saturday night after his Vikings lost 28-21 to Diablo Valley College.

One thing he wasn't saying was "that's the way the old ball bounces," but that might just be the phrase that describes the plight of the Vikings the best.

The pigskin just wasn't bouncing West Valley's way last Saturday and that's what helped Diablo Valley stick WVC with its third loss in four tries in 1977.

The loss left the Vikings with an 0-2 Golden Gate Conference heading into a home game this week against Laney. The Eagles will visit West Valley on Thursday, Oct. 13, at 7:30 p.m. at Buck Shaw Stadium, bringing a 2-1 league record and 2-3 overall mark into the game.

Laney has already knocked off San Francisco and San Mateo in GGC play, losing only to De Anza. The Eagles have also lost to Gavilan and Shasta in non-conference play. West Valley has fallen to Ventura and Chabot along with Diablo Valley. Valley's only win was over Butte in its opener.

"Laney has an outstanding rushing game," said Nicholas looking ahead to Thursday's game. "They have a stable of fine running backs. We'll have to get a strong effort from our defensive front seven to stop them."

NICHOLAS ALSO has to be hoping that the football will start bouncing in the direction of his club this week when the Vikes meet Laney.

Three times the ball bounced the wrong way for West Valley, hurting the Viking's hopes for a comeback win.

Early in the game a center snap bounced away from West Valley and Diablo Valley recovered on the one foot line. On the next play DVC punched it in for a score to lead 7-0 with 8:56 left in the first.

A first half field goal try by Rich Eagle (Los Gatos) from 50 yards away was headed in the right direction but hit the crossbar and bounced back into the end-zone, costing West Valley a chance for three points.

And late in the game the ball was bouncing for DVC again. After the Vikings had come back from a 28-deficit to 28-21 with a pair of fourth period touchdowns, West Valley forced a Diablo Valley fumble. But DVC recovered and then ran the clock out to clinch the victory.

West Valley had answered Diablo Valley's first period score with a TD of its own.

Just 40 seconds after Diablo Valley had jumped on top 7-0, Bill Tantillo (Branham) hooked up with Rocky Pena (Westmont) on a 61 yard scoring bomb and Eagle kicked the extra point to knot the score 7-7.

Diablo Valley scored after an 80 yard drive with 1:25 left in the first and scored again on an eight yard run with 12:08 left in the half to take a 21-7 lead before intermission.

DVC SCORED again with 7:28 left in the third to go up 28-7 but West Valley didn't quit.

Warren Lopez (Leigh) capped a West Valley drive when he rambled in for a touchdown from 12 yards out with 8:03 left in the game. Eagle kicked the extra point.

Pete Morin (Branham) hit Pena on a 15 yard halfback pass, Marty Maiers (Leigh) tossed to Tracy Wilson (Branham) on a 17 yard screen pass and Morin ran for five yards to set up the score.

The Vikings held Diablo Valley and took over after a punt at their own 37. Maiers hooked up with Pena for a 21 yard pass and Tantillo went to Ramon Johnson (Camden) twice for 14 and 18 yards to set up a 12 yard Tantillo to Pena pass for the touchdown.

Eagle's kick made it 28-21 with 2:50 left but the Vikings couldn't get their hands on the football again and Diablo Valley ran out the clock.

"Our defense just had a hard time controlling them," said Nicholas of Diablo Valley. "They have a good football team."

West Valley outgained DVC in the game, rolling up 378 total yards to 352 for Diablo.

Tantillo completed seven of 20 passes for 180 yards and a pair of touchdowns in the loss. Maiers was two for five for 37 yards, Kelly Pierson was one for four for seven yards and Morin was one for one for 15 yards.

PENA GATHERED in five passes for 153 yards and two touchdowns in the game. "He had a great night," said Nicholas.

Duran Evans led the Viking ground show with 47 yards on eight carries and Wilson picked up 41 yards on 10 tries. Quin Cordero (Peterson) added 30 yards on five totes from his fullback post. Lopez picked up 16 yards on three attempts, one good for a touchdown.

Cordero was also praised for his kick-off returns in the game. The freshman fullback ran back four kick-offs for West Valley for a 27 yard average.

Johnson caught three passes for 45 yards to support Pena in the receiving department. Jeff Kahn (Mitty) snagged one for 18 yards, Marty Mullins (Leigh) grabbed one for seven yards and Wilson pulled in one for 17 yards.

Kahn punted for football six times in the game for a 39 yard per kick average.

Nicholas praised the work of tackle Bob Walter (Saratoga) and linebacker Scott Hoefling (Branham) defensively in the contest but still wasn't pleased with the efforts of the offensive line.

"We're still inconsistent in the line," said the coach. "The guys are getting better each week, but here we are going into our fifth game of the season and we're still inconsistent."

Warrior offense stalls in loss to Los Gatos

THE WESTMONT Warriors took the opening kick-off last Saturday night against the Los Gatos Wildcats and promptly marched 70 yards for a touchdown. But after that promising start, the Warriors never again got going offensively and eventually went down to a 36-13 defeat on the Wildcats' field.

"I don't know why, but we seemed to let down," said Westmont head coach Don Stagnaro. "Los Gatos just rose to the occasion and took it to us. We seemed to lose a little pride."

After leading 7-0 at the end of the first quarter, the Warriors were blitzed for 16 second period points by the Wildcats.

Los Gatos added two more touchdowns, one in the third quarter and one early in the fourth, before Westmont was able to score again.

The Wildcats, however, drove the final nail into the Warriors' coffin minutes later with yet another touchdown.

"From the second quarter on we just got completely thrashed," said Stagnaro. "Los Gatos is a good solid football team, the best we've faced so far."

It looked as if it was going to be Westmont's night after the Warriors opened the game with their impressive 70 yard scoring drive.

KEYED BY THE running of Phil LoPresti and Greg Athearn, and the passing of Scott Ruiz, Westmont jammed the ball down the throat of the Wildcat defense.

Ruiz tossed a pair of 10 yard strikes to Marcel Adams and hit Steve Moore for a 12 yard pick-up to complement the running of Athearn and Lo Presti on the drive.

LoPresti then capped the drive with a 13 yard romp into the endzone and Ruiz booted the extra point.

Westmont gained 50 yards on the ground in its opening drive but was held to a negative 10 yards rushing the remainder of the evening.

"We got shut down after that first drive," noted Stagnaro. "And that forced us to throw the ball after a while."

With the running game stalled and Westmont trailing, Ruiz was forced to throw the ball despite the fact that the Wildcats were expecting the pass.

The Warrior quarterback wound up completing just 11 of 30 passes for 145 yards. Three of his tosses were intercepted.

Ruiz did throw his fifth touchdown pass of the season late in the game when he fired a 27 yard scoring strike to Perry Lunt.

"We're a better team than we showed," said Stagnaro after the loss, which evened Westmont's West Valley Athletic League record at 1-1. The Warriors are 2-2 overall.

Westmont is at home Friday for a 3:30 p.m. tilt with the Blackford Braves (0-2).

"They're a scrappy outfit and they'll be hungry for a win," noted Stagnaro. "They have good size and a wide open attack."

Woodside capitalizes on Bucs' 2nd half mistakes

"WE'VE GOT to make a much better effort to play four full quarters," said Campbell high head coach Al Matthews. "We're just not concentrating in the second half. We're making too many mistakes."

And it was those second half mistakes that spelled Campbell's doom last Friday afternoon when the host Buccaneers went down to a 26-7 defeat at the hands of the Woodside Wildcats in a non-league contest.

"It was an even ballgame all the way through the first half and we had the momentum going into the third quarter," continued Matthews. "I thought we had them. But we let down and they started moving."

The Bucs, on the strength of a 20-yard touchdown pass from Dan Trinidad to Eric Harris and Dave Sasser's extra point kick, had battled Woodside to a 7-7 tie through two periods of play.

But the Wildcats, who won the South Peninsula Athletic League championship last year to earn a berth in the Central Coast Section play-offs, took the second half kick-off and marched down the field for the go ahead touchdown and never looked back.

"They got the momentum once they scored and we just let down," said Matthews.

"WE SHOULD have scored a couple of times early in the second half," the Buc boss added. "But we didn't and then they started moving the ball."

"They play good football," Matthews said in praise of the Wildcats. "They got on us in the second half and wouldn't let up."

Campbell's chances of knocking off the talented Wildcats were dampened even before the game started, due to the absence of five starters due to injuries. Among those not suited up were tailback Carlos Velasco, center Lee Egger, defensive guard Bill Meyers, defensive tackle Rich Kiss and backup tailback Rich Perry.

Matthews singled out fullback Fred Hiedler, quarterback Trinidad, and offensive linemen Steve Aimonetti and Dan Rains for their efforts in the loss.

Campbell returns to West Valley Athletic League action this week when the Bucs travel to Camden for a 3:30 p.m. contest with the co-league leading Cougars.

Camden shares the WVAL top spot with Del Mar and Leigh, all three schools sporting perfect 2-0 league records.

Bergna handle play-offs

BUCHSER high school assistant principal George Bergna and former Bellarmine prep head football coach John Hanna will take the reins of the Central Coast Section football play-offs, it was announced last week by the CCS.

Bergna has accepted the position as the football chairman, replacing Mt. Pleasant high principal Wil Concklin.

Hanna, who recently stepped down as the Bellarmine head coach, will take the role of assistant football chairman in the CCS.

There will be 15 regional and sectional games leading to the CCS championship this fall and more than 70,000 persons are expected to be on hand for the games.

Panther fumbles pave way to victory for Cougars

THE PROSPECT Panthers fumbled five times within their own 42-yard line last Friday afternoon and the Camden Cougars capitalized on four of those mistakes on the way to a 34-0 rout on the Panthers' field.

"We wouldn't have won the game, but the score would have been a lot closer if it weren't for those fumbles," said Panther head coach Earl Adams.

Of the five fumbles Camden recovered inside the Panther 42, four led to Camden touchdowns.

"They handled us," said Adams. "But at times during the game I felt we played them even. Defensively, we did a good job of stopping the run. But we couldn't contain the pass. They passed almost at will against us."

Camden quarterback Jeff Hill enjoyed a big game, despite the fact that the Panthers had an excellent pass rush all day long.

Led by downlinemen Tom Miotke, Tim Bidwell, Randy Chase and Ken Hoyt, the Panthers recorded five qb sacks on the afternoon. Mickey Speciale, meanwhile, intercepted one of Hill's aerials.

Although they were shut-out, the Panthers moved the ball well at times on the ground. Led by the blocking of rapidly improving center Bruce Haynes, Phil Angerole carried the ball 12 times for 85 yards while Tom Morgan gained 67 yards on 13 carries.

The Panthers run up against the Del Mar Dons, who share the early WVAL lead with Camden, Friday afternoon at Del Mar in a 3:30 p.m. contest.

"We have a lot to work on this week in practice," noted Adams. "We have to work on ball control, pass defense and our specialty teams."

Last week's loss dropped Prospect's WVAL record to 0-2 and the Panthers' overall record to 0-4.

Rocky week for grid predictors

IT WAS A rocky week for the football predictors in the West Valley Athletic League last week as an upset paved the way to a dismal 2-3 week.

Despite missing three of five games, we did nail one score right on the head when we picked Del Mar to win by two points over Blackford, which they did (8-6).

So with a 16-6 overall record, we'll try to get back on the winning track this week with our picks.

Friday Los Gatos visits Leigh (3:30 p.m.), Campbell treks to Camden, (3:30), Prospect travels to Del Mar (3:30 p.m.) and Westmont welcomes Blackford (3:30 p.m.). We'll go with the Wildcats by eight, the Cougars by four, the Dons by six and the Warriors by 12.

On Saturday night, Branham collides with Lynbrook at Cupertino high school (8 p.m.). The Bruins will come away with a six point win.

on the hot corner

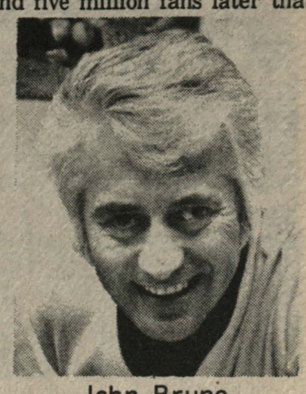
by dick sparrer

IT WAS LATE January in 1960 when a rag-tag football team filtered out onto an old high school field in Oakland and had the nerve to call themselves professionals.

People laughed at the team and at their league. Only 1,500 fans owned season tickets for that first year and even the most ardent of supporters had sentenced the team, and the league, to an early death.

Skeptics vowed that the league would never catch on in the shadow of the larger, established NFL.

Well, some 17 years and five million fans later that "rag-tag" team is still around. And heading into the 1977 season they rank as the champions of the world — of course, I mean the Oakland Raiders.



John Bruno

The Raiders never gave up hope that someday their league would catch on and attract a large following. And neither will the San Jose Sunbirds and their Women's Professional Softball League!

Many were skeptical when the Sunbirds and the WPSL began play in 1976. San Jose drew just over 1,400 people a game and lost $132,000. Folks said they wouldn't be back in 1977.

BUT THE Sunbirds and the WPSL did return for the 1977 season. There were four less teams in the league, but the Sunbirds managed to increase their average attendance to over 1,500. And they cut their losses in half at $60,000.

Well, there are people around town who have already written off the Sunbirds for 1978. But the Sunbirds ain't dead yet!

Sunbird general manager John Bruno has announced a restructuring of the operating corporation Softball, Inc. And the Sunbirds will restructure by offering the sale of its stock to the general public.

"We'll make it back next year if we can put the stock sale together," said an optimistic Bruno.

"The product is sellable," he added. "We've shown growth over our first two years. Across the league we've had a 29-30 per cent growth in average attendance. We had no games under 1,000 attendance this past season."

"Right now the facts are all positive," said Bruno. "We lost half as much last year as we did the year before. And this year we look to break even or at worst lose half as much as last season. Every sign is positive. I've never had someone come to me and say it's bad entertainment. Most people just never realized women could play so well."

The stock will sell for $10 per share and must be purchased in block of 100 shares.

"THIS IS THE same stock that I own — it isn't watered down," he said.

The Sunbirds are authorized to sell 16,000 more shares.

"I would like to do what the Green Bay Packers did — the franchise there is in essence owned by the community," said Bruno. "I've had many fans ask if they could buy stock in the Sunbirds before."

"I don't want people to buy stock with money that they're saving for retirement or for their children's college educations," warned Bruno. "I want people to use money they might use in Las Vegas. Any sports interest is a gamble. If we can find a group that's interested in gambling together, that's the fun of it."

"I'm motivated by the fact that someday I think this will be a money-making proposition and I want to be part of it," he added.

The Sunbirds will hold a prospective stockholders meeting the first week of November (for more details call 287-0900) to explain how the plan will work.

By November 12 the Sunbirds have to be in a position to let the league know whether or not they will be in operation in 1978. "That deadline was self-imposed," said Bruno.

"Some owners have been contacted by major sports equipment firms — last year they wouldn't even talk to us, now they're listening," said Bruno. "If we can stay around five years, people will feel we have staying power — that we must have something."

"Sometimes we get discouraged, but then we think of the Raiders when they first started and how people used to laugh at pro football," said Bruno. "We're pioneers now like they were 20 years ago."

Tigers battle for CFL championship

THE SAN JOSE Tigers earned a berth in Saturday's California Football League championship game at PAL Stadium recently by toppling the San Gabriel Valley Saints 24-12 in semi-final play-off action.

The Tigers will plan the winner of last Saturday night's semi-final tilt between the Sacramento Buffalos or the Long Beach Mustangs.

Reserved seat tickets to the championship game are $5 for adults and $2.50 for youths, 18 years and under. Tickets can be purchased at the Tigers' office, 5120 Campbell ave., Suite 222, San Jose. For further information call 379-PASS.

The Tigers finished their regular season averaging better than 3,000 fans per game in eight dates.

Vikings suffer win, loss at wrong times

WEST VALLEY College's women's volleyball team nailed a win and suffered a loss in play last week. But as far as coach Claudine Simpson is concerned, they did each at the wrong time.

West Valley snuffed Hartnell in three straight 15-7, 15-11, 15-5 last Thursday after falling in a tight five game battle to San Francisco City College 15-9, 16-14, 11-15, 7-15, 17-19.

But unfortunately for the Vikings, their victory was in non-league play and their loss was in conference action.

West Valley will visit Foothill on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. and will host De Anza on Friday at 7:30 p.m. in conference matches, hoping to get back on the winning track.

"We just didn't play well," said Simpson of the match with San Francisco. "They weren't any better than any other team we've played. We just didn't play smart. We didn't serve or serve-receive well. Our basic skills hurt us — or lack of basic skills."

Simpson singled out Pam Goldsborough (Willow Glen) and Cindy Meyer (Camden) for their performances against CCSF.

The coach praised the work of Goldsborough and Nancy O'Connell (Campbell) for their efforts against Hartnell.

"O'Connell was outstanding offensively and defensively in the first game against Hartnell," said Simpson.
